One-Nation Veto Power Will React On Soviet Russia

United States And Great Britain Set To Halt Soviet Bloc Tactics

U. N. BATTLE OVER NEW MEMBERSHIPS

By GEORGE DUNO
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The United States and Great Britain were set today to toss the one-nation veto power squarely back into the teeth of Soviet Russia—at the expense of Albania and Outer Mongolia, both of whom want admission to the United Nations with the strong backing of Moscow.

Angered by what the western powers considered to be strong-arm tactics on the part of the Soviet bloc, a bare-knuckle basis of world negotiation was in prospect as the United Nations Security Council went into its second session at the remote new homestead on Long Island.

See Veto Use
When, as definitely forecast, the American and British delegates vote against recommending Albania and the Mongolian people's republic to the full UN general assembly for membership, it will be the first time either power has invoked its veto power.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Something new in taxicab passengers was seen by Pa New when an out of town cab went through downtown New Castle with a trailer behind. In the trailer was a mare and its colt.

Pa New notes in some sections of the city, in spite of warnings in previous years, householders are burning leaves on the amesite streets of the city. The heat causes the tar to melt, later making a depression in the street.

Few days ago, Pa New noticed "two bowls of fruit" sitting in the window of a 7th ward store. Yesterday Pa New passed the same window during the heat of the day. There were the same bowls of fruit, only it was a fruit punch. The fruit was wax and the sun had melted them.

Judging from the brood of pheasants seen on the farm of John Long in North Beaver township, yesterday, birds will be plentiful this season. Picking up grain among the stubble in the Long's wheat field, were seven, nearly grown pheasant chicks and a hen, it was reported to Pa New.

Mrs. Elsie Martin of 613 Arlington avenue, reports there were quite a number of friends and neighbors at her home on Wednesday evening, to view her beautiful night blooming cereus. Mrs. Martin expects more blooms to make their appearance this evening.

Dear Pa New: After reading in your paper about children swimming in the river below the East Washington street bridge, despite the cool winds, reminds me of a sight I saw on a New Castle street, Saturday afternoon, August 24, of an elderly gentleman wearing an overcoat. I passed him on my return and hearing a woman laughing, I looked across the street and saw a woman placing a gray overcoat over top the one that the man was wearing. The gray one was much shorter than the one he had on. Later, I saw the chilly brother sitting in the shade on the steps of a store. Evidently the weight of the two coats was too much for the aged man who was perhaps over 75 years of age. Mrs. Francis Swogger, R. D. 1, Wampum.

Reports New Steps Taken In Move To Speed Housing Here

The National Housing Agency has taken steps to require industry to set aside more materials for veterans' housing in the New Castle locality and will clamp down on compliance with the Veterans Emergency Housing Program, R. B. Hutton, NHA expediter, here, announced today.

"Wilson W. Wyatt, the national expediter in Washington, is taking a new course of 'tough action', which he assures us will shake loose materials which our veterans here need for shelter," Hutton said. "A dozen critical materials, which have been bottlenecks in local housing construction, are affected. Some of these items have held up completion of houses."

Will Divert Items
Hutton said that, with the cooperation of the Civilian Production Administration, many items will be diverted from non-residential construction to veterans' housing. The present priorities list of 25 materials groups is being doubled.

The action came after a series of discussions between Wyatt and CPA officials in Washington.

"In the final analysis, the job of housing veterans is a community proposition," Hutton said. "It always has depended upon the vigor with which the community acts. It is up to mayors' housing committees' civic and patriotic groups, labor organizations and builders to see that housing goes up."

"The Federal Government can help. It can help by inducing increased production of scarce materials through premium payments, by giving priorities to builders of veterans' housing, by restricting non-essential building which uses up the materials so badly needed (Continued on Page Two)

Make Demands For Conviction Of All Nazi Agencies

U. S. Closes Case Against German War Machine With Sweeping Demand

NUENBERG, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The United States today closed its case against the German war machine by demanding conviction of Nazi organizations including the Reich cabinet and Gestapo as the media for carrying out the mass war crimes.

Thomas J. Dodd, executive trial counsel at the international tribunal, said the cabinet, Political Leadership corps, SS, SD, SA and Gestapo should be found guilty for criminal conspiracy, aggressive war, mass murder, slave labor, racial and religious persecutions and brutal mistreatment of millions.

Agencies Of Work
Dodd declared that these organizations—"some Nazi-created, some Nazi-perverted"—were the agencies through which the 22 Nazi leaders tried in the trial operated for the accomplishment of their criminal purposes over the conquered people of Germany and the conquered European nations.

America's final argument against the indicted organizations was delivered after Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, British prosecutor, declared that all Nazi officials down to the level of block wardens are responsible for the atrocities committed by Germany during World War II.

Maxwell-Fyfe accused the organizations and the German general staff for the deaths of twenty-two million people.

Sunday's Greek Plebiscite Stirs New Contention

Moscow Takes Stern Stand Against Sole Balkan State With Western Ties

TWO ISSUES WILL GO BEFORE GREEKS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Sunday's Greek plebiscite on retention of the monarchy flared today into the forefront of the news as Moscow took a stern stand against the sole remaining Balkan state with ties to the western world.

The situation was not regarded as by any means as serious a crisis as was weathered last week in connection with Yugoslavia's shooting down of American airmen lost in foul weather over Marshal Tito's territory. But developments made clear that Moscow was much readier to make an issue of Greece than of any other immediate friction with outside powers.

Present Two Questions
Sunday's plebiscite will present two questions to the Greek electorate. One is whether the country will continue a limited monarchy, as it was before the war, or become a democracy along western lines. The second is whether, in event it remains a monarchy, King George II will return to the throne.

All quarters appeared convinced that the voters will approve the monarchy and restore George. So impressed by this fact are the Greek Communists, it is reported, that they may become a threat to the peace of Greece.

That this conviction of a monarchial victory prevails in Moscow was also indicated by the fact that the Soviet ambassador to Greece, Admiral Rodionov, has asked for exit visas for himself and his family. This action, though it was not entirely clear that the envoy planned to leave Greece at once, was interpreted in Washington as a move to impress on the Greek people the seriousness of the situation. It would imply that they might encounter Soviet displeasure were they to retain George as king.

No Need For Large Forces
The senator expressed belief that there was no need to retain large military forces in Japan, Germany and Austria, but did not hazard a guess as to how long it would take to make the change.

He told a reported.
"There is no need to keep large armies overseas. What do you need them for? To guard supplies? We can hire thousands of Japanese for that purpose who would be delighted to work for us. The same goes for the Germans."

As for coping with possible civilian disorders, Thomas said the native police could be relied upon for that. He pointed out that the occupation (Continued on Page Two)

Northern Ohio Building Trades Unions Strike

(BULLETIN)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Approximately 24,000 AFL-Building Trades Union members in three northern Ohio counties went on strike today in protest against the action of AFL carpenters in restricting their work to veterans' housing projects.

Virtually all building construction operations in Cuyahoga, Geauga and Lake counties were halted by the 18 trades following their failure to have the carpenters agree to a truce.

Withdrawal Of British Troops From Greece, Demand

ATHENS, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The Athens left-wing coalition known as EAM today addressed a memorandum to the United Nations Security Council demanding withdrawal of British troops from Greece.

Then, the picnic dinner prepared and served by Merle Hoover and his associates. Heaps of cold cuts and cheese, baked beans and potato salad, pickles, cole slaw and ice cream. The blessing was asked by Ollie Rodgers and the pep singing directed by Russell P. Rhodes. Following the dinner there was a short program and then the kids rode the various rides in the park. And for the rides there wasn't an adult in the crowd.

In the ten-year race for youngsters under six, Ronald Egan breezed in first. In the 50-yard race for boys under 12, Jim Burkholder finished first with Bill Bratsche second. For girls under 12, Kathleen Patterson finished first and Arlene Anderson second. Three-legged (Continued on Page Two)

HOOVER CITES YUGO 'GRATITUDE'

Former President Herbert C. Hoover arrives in Los Angeles and is interviewed by reporter Alan Williams. Recently returned from a 95-day tour of the world to survey famine conditions, Mr. Hoover said shooting down of American Army planes by Yugoslav airmen was indeed "poor token of gratitude in return for $200,000,000 worth of food, clothing and farm implements we gave them."

Senator Thomas Urges Large U. S. Occupation Forces Be Withdrawn

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, proposed today that the United States immediately withdraw its large occupation armies from overseas.

Thomas said they should be replaced by token forces staffed largely with civilians recruited from native populations.

The senator expressed belief that there was no need to retain large military forces in Japan, Germany and Austria, but did not hazard a guess as to how long it would take to make the change.

He told a reported.

Drawing Up New Ceiling Meat Prices

New Prices Will Be Announced Sometime Next Week By O. P. A.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—OPA today drew up new price ceilings on meat reflecting increases of three to nine cents a pound over June 30 retail prices of beef, pork, veal and mutton.

Officials said that the new retail ceilings will be announced sometime next week to become effective on Sept. 9. Controls go into effect at the slaughtering level Sunday and on wholesale sales on Sept. 3. These ceilings are expected to be made public within a few days.

To carry out Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's order fixing prices at the slaughtering level, OPA will promulgate ceilings slightly higher than those in effect at the various levels of distribution on June 30 when controls lapsed.

Retail Prices To Go Up
Retail prices are expected to go up about six cents a pound for beef, three cents a pound for pork, and six to nine cents a pound for lamb and mutton over the old ceilings.

An OPA spokesman explained that announcement of the new ceilings would be delayed until next week to give the agency time to determine the nearly 10,000 different retail prices to be placed into effect.

He said OPA had to compute a different ceiling for each of 267 cuts of meat in four classes of retail stores in nine geographical zones throughout the country.

Anderson, acting under the authority granted him by the new price control law, recommended to Price Administrator Paul Porter that the following ceilings be established at the slaughtering level of the Chicago market:

Hogs—$16.25 per hundred pounds; cattle, overriding ceiling—$20.25 per hundredweight, and lambs—ceilings on the dressed animal sufficient to reflect a return of about $19 per hundredweight to producers.

New U. S. Tension In Yugoslavia

Reports Of Arrest Of Yugoslav Shipping Agency Officer Stir Up Conflict

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—(INS)—A dramatic climax of a race for life was being enacted today at Hahnemann hospital in Philadelphia.

There lies a 19-year-old Bridgeport, N. J., youth who was driven to the Quaker City at break-neck speed for special treatment to halt a nose-bleed which began three weeks ago.

Dashing at a 90-mile-an-hour clip, Dr. Charles Hollis brought the victim, Clarence Zane, to Philadelphia, escorted by New Jersey, Delaware River bridge, and Quaker City police.

Zane was hit in the face by a piece of brass pipe while working at a Bridgeton gasoline station on Aug. 9. He was given several transfusions at Bridgeton hospital, but did not respond to treatment.

Reparations For Russia Provoke New Controversy

South Africa And Ukraine Delegates Tangle On Romania Payments

EAST AND WEST BATTLE ON ISSUE

(BULLETIN)
PARIS, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The Big Four foreign ministers began their extraordinary meeting at 4:06 p. m. 11:06 p. m. EDT in P. M. side at Premier Georges Bidault's office at the Quai D'Orsay.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Aug. 29.—South Africa and the Ukraine tangled today in the Balkan commission of the peace conference when a South African delegate moved that foreign interests in Romania be protected against exactions for reparations for Russia.

The Ukrainian member of the committee quickly retorted: "Such an amendment would benefit foreign capitalist interests to the detriment of Romania and her neighbors. Why should we protect foreigners owning oil refineries in Romania and put them in a privileged position, and tie the hands of the Romanian government?"

The argument over foreign immunity to reparations arose after a Greek delegate struck back at Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov for charging Greece with sympathy for aggressor nations.

Weather Causes Delay In Flight From Lock Haven

Because of poor flying conditions, the 150 ex-WASPs who were scheduled to make a two-hour stop-over at the local airport en route to the National Air Show at Cleveland had not arrived at the scheduled time today.

Neither the management of the New Castle airport nor the Lock Haven airport, from which the girls were to take off in 150 Piper Cubs, knew whether or not "conditions would permit flying this afternoon. If the rain and poor visibility continue, the flight will be postponed until Friday."

The former WASPs have been having a three-day reunion at Lock Haven, the home of the Piper Cubs. The girls have termed themselves "Fifinellas," or female gremlins, and the flight is called "Operation Fifinella."

FRENCH POLICE SPECIAL MOVES TO PROTEST BEVIN

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(INS)—French security police officials guarding diplomats at the peace conference denied today that special precautions have been taken to protect British Secretary of State Bevin from assassination.

(Reuters had reported from Paris that French police were conducting a manhunt for "Jewish extremists" suspected of being sworn to kill Bevin.)

The security police officials termed rumors of such special precautions "absolutely nonsense."

State Police Probe Ordered Of Ku Klux Klan

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(INS)—State Police Commissioner C. N. Wilhelm was ordered today by Gov. Edward Martin to investigate Ku Klux Klan activities in Pennsylvania.

A spokesman for the chief executive said a photostatic copy of an advertisement in a Chambersburg newspaper allegedly soliciting Klan membership had been sent to Wilhelm as a lead for the investigation.

The probe of Klan activities followed in the wake of a request the B'nai B'rith anti-defamation league that Governor Martin "direct investigative and prosecutory forces" against Klan operations in Pennsylvania. The letter was received today.

New York Supreme Court Justice Meier Seidenfeld, board chairman of the league, said the Klan advertisement was entitled "an open letter to the public" and incited race hatred.

SENATOR THOMAS URGES OCCUPATION FORCES WITHDRAWN

authorities could select men for police duties "whom we know we can trust."

Gen. Eisenhower Differs

Gen. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, testified earlier this year before the house appropriations committee that "we must look forward to the next three years as a minimum," when asked how long the United States would have to keep occupation forces overseas.

Eisenhower added:

"On the other hand, I would place it at say from five to 10 years. We should be able to contact some as we get more responsible governments and as we have evidence that we are not going to get interference through someone else suddenly kicking over the traces. These forces then can be somewhat reduced and brought back. It may be that our forces might drop off a hundred thousand in one year, or a comparable number, in another year."

Taken Force

Thomas intended, however, that a token force would be sufficient, with most of the duties of an occupation army being done by civilians.

"The senator declared that occupation duties were having a demoralizing effect upon the young soldiers, who largely make up American forces overseas. "Naturally," he stated, "they don't like to act as policemen and guards in a foreign country."

In Japan, he stated, Gen. MacArthur was extremely popular with the people. Thomas, an authority on Japanese affairs, declared:

"I don't hesitate to state that if an election were held in Japan, MacArthur could be elected to any high post, such as president perhaps."

sia, the Ukraine and Yugoslavia rallied to the defense of Romania against the United States and the British Empire.

A South African amendment designed to prevent Romania from transferring reparations obligations to foreign investors became a three-and-one-half hour bone of contention.

Fedor Gusev of Russia maintained that citizens of the United Nations owning property in Romania already are protected by the draft treaty. He said:

"There is no need to give capital-ist interests a privileged position."

A plenary session of the conference was called for tomorrow to hear Iraq.

Not Renouncing Claim

The Athens spokesman said he wanted to make it clear his country has no intention of renouncing any claims, and believes aggressors must be made to pay for damage they caused. He added:

"It is inadmissible that Bulgaria should recover more rapidly than the countries she helped ravage. For three and one-half years the Bulgarians systematically devastated North Greece, massacring 20 thousand and deporting tens of thousands of persons."

"Molotov accuses us of confusing the issue. We have made our position crystal clear and we are not changing it."

Can't Understand

Molotov had said previously he could no longer understand the Greek attitude on reparations after the Greek delegate's remarks in the economic commission for the Balkans and Finland. He said those remarks showed Greece was "sympathetic with aggressors."

In the Italian political and territorial commission, meanwhile, Poland startled the delegates by mentioning the words "atomic war" in connection with peace treaties.

for housing, by keeping the price of materials and houses at figures the veterans can pay, by backing up housing loans to veterans and helping finance rental housing, by converting wartime structures to peacetime use by veterans, by requiring sound construction, and by a dozen other devices.

Up to Communities

"It is up to the communities, however, to see that these devices work—that they are brought right into the home town. As a liaison agency between communities and the nation, NHA will do all it can to persuade producers to make more housing materials, to see that home builders get them and use them for housing, and to see that the veterans get as good a house as is possible under the prevailing prices."

The Locality Expediter said full details of new measures to stimulate housing construction would be made public soon—some of them within a few days and the rest within a few weeks.

A special effort will be made to complete housing, unfinished for lack of materials, before winter sets in. Deliveries will be speeded up, construction will be accelerated and costly construction delays, which are adding to the prices of housing, will be eliminated, he said.

"We have gotten over some bad hurdles—work stoppages, legislation, uncertainties over price controls, the gigantic task of converting from wartime to peacetime production," he said. "We hope things will be smoother from here on in."

New York Daily News Head Dies In Auto Crash

WESTPORT, Conn., Aug. 29.—(INS)—Roy C. Holliss, 56, acting president of the News Syndicate Corp., publishers of the New York Daily News, was killed today in an automobile accident near Westport.

Holliss was riding in a car with Frederick H. Bedford, president of the Atlas Supply Company and director of numerous corporations including the Standard Oil of New Jersey. Bedford suffered minor injuries in the crash.

Connecticut state police said the fatal accident occurred when Bedford's car left the road and struck a tree while making a turn about half a mile from the Bedford home at Westport.

Bedford was treated at Bridgeport hospital and state police said a technical charge of homicide was lodged against him.

for housing, by keeping the price of materials and houses at figures the veterans can pay, by backing up housing loans to veterans and helping finance rental housing, by converting wartime structures to peacetime use by veterans, by requiring sound construction, and by a dozen other devices.

Up to Communities

"It is up to the communities, however, to see that these devices work—that they are brought right into the home town. As a liaison agency between communities and the nation, NHA will do all it can to persuade producers to make more housing materials, to see that home builders get them and use them for housing, and to see that the veterans get as good a house as is possible under the prevailing prices."

The Locality Expediter said full details of new measures to stimulate housing construction would be made public soon—some of them within a few days and the rest within a few weeks.

A special effort will be made to complete housing, unfinished for lack of materials, before winter sets in. Deliveries will be speeded up, construction will be accelerated and costly construction delays, which are adding to the prices of housing, will be eliminated, he said.

"We have gotten over some bad hurdles—work stoppages, legislation, uncertainties over price controls, the gigantic task of converting from wartime to peacetime production," he said. "We hope things will be smoother from here on in."

Durant and Watson have been held under custody since last June but will face different court-martials.

Uncertain Of Effect

Lt. Col. John S. Dwinell of Brooklyn N. Y., said he was uncertain how the court's decision on the conspiracy charge would affect Durant and Watson.

He recalled the Teapot Dome scandal in which former Secretary of Interior Albert Fall was convicted of receiving a bribe from Edward Doheny, a California oilman. But Doheny was acquitted of offering the bribe.

Horses Not Meant To Be Held In Lap, Young Rider Learns

Girl In Hospital With Fractured Pelvis After Horse Falls In Her Lap

AKRON, O., Aug. 29.—(INS)—Mrs. Louise Limbach, 21, of Akron, realized today the painful sensation of having a horse sit in her lap.

An accomplished equestrian, Mrs. Limbach suffered multiple fractures of the pelvis and was confined in Akron City hospital.

The accident occurred last night while the young woman was posing with the horse for a photographer. While the horse was being reared up on its hind legs, it lost its balance and toppled back onto Mrs. Limbach.

DELEGATES ARE STARTLED TO HEAR OF 'ATOMIC WAR'

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Poland startled delegates to the Italian political and territorial commission today by mentioning the words "atomic war" in connection with peace treaties.

A Polish spokesman commented on a previous Australian suggestion on the proposed Franco-Italian frontier and demanded to know whether borders were to be fixed for nations expecting to have war, or expecting to live in peace. He said:

"Is it that we plan for peace in the shadow of war—atomic war?"

He then sarcastically reminded the delegates they have been pondering the treaties for a month, and that the world is at a loss to understand delays at the parley.

WASHINGTON
by MARQUIS
CHILDS

U. S. Must Recognize
Changes In World

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—In formulating American policy around the globe, our policy-makers tend to rely on political labels. Too often, it seems to me, they fail to look at the economic reality behind those labels.

Recently in the news was an interesting example of what this means. When revolutionists in Bolivia stormed the palace and assassinated President Gualberto Villaloro, we in the United States tended to take a self-righteous attitude. We said that he had collaborated with the Nazis and that therefore he got what he deserved.

Over Simplification
But a second look, now that the passions of the moment have cooled, shows that this was an oversimplification and perhaps from the point of view of America's long-time future. A dangerous oversimplification. A fact generally overlooked is that Villaloro had been a victim of the living standards of the miserable Indians who dig in Bolivia's tin mines.

Laurence Duggan, formerly head of the Latin-American division in the state department, has this to say in the current issue of the Inter-American:

"Villaloro himself was a conscientious man with a puritanical determination to elevate national morals. He wanted to give land to the Indians and to shake the country loose from the political vise of the tin magnates."

As Duggan, who is badly needed in a policy-making role in Washington, makes clear, Villaloro was involved with dubious intrigues. Among his military confederates were men who wanted to impose the Latin-American division in the state department, has this to say in the current issue of the Inter-American:

Advance Steps
The fact remains, however, that in feudal Bolivia they took steps to advance the lot of the poorest and most oppressed class. Housing projects were accelerated. Laws were adopted to prevent the companies from crushing the miners' struggling trade unions. Wage boards were created to hear requests for higher wages. While freedom of expression was suppressed for a time, newspapers in the months preceding the recent revolution printed violent attacks on the government.

Was the revolution, then, a triumph of liberal-progressive forces over Fascism? Ernest Galarza, until recently head of the labor division of the Pan-American union, says no. Galarza visited Bolivia during the Villaloro regime and studied the reform measures introduced by the late president.

Resigning his position with the Pan-American union to be free to express his views on Bolivia, Galarza points out that today representatives of the all-powerful tin cartel are returning to power in Bolivia. He points to key positions being filled by men who were agents for the tin trust which has customarily held the country in subjection.

Just Another Upset
For the most of us, the Bolivia revolution may seem to have been just another of those Latin-American upsets; a little bloodshed, a new regime, a new set of unpronounceable names. Why should we be bothered about it?

There is a good answer to that question and we here in North America had better think about it. In Bolivia on one side of the world, in Iran on the other side—everywhere—change is taking place. The rich men run things to suit themselves, is breaking up. With the radio, the airplane, change was bound to come.

The great danger is that we in the United States will be identified, in the minds of those who are now moving out of the primitive past with the tiny minority which is trying to prevent the change from happening. We will seem always to be tied up with the tiny little clique that wants to keep things just as they are. To put it more bluntly, the United States will be alienated with reaction and injustice.

Excellent Example
It so happens that Bolivia furnishes an excellent example of our failure to use our great bargaining power on the side of inevitable change.

During the war, the United States bought vast quantities of Bolivian tin. In the foreign economic administration were officials who believed that, in contracts with Bolivian tin magnates, we should set a condition of a little higher pay for pitifully underpaid Bolivian workers. Other officials said no. They argued this would be unwarranted interference with Bolivian affairs. They were charged with being close to the world tin cartel. Whatever the truth in this controversy, we did not include such a clause in the contracts. We failed to take a step that would have had favorable echoes throughout all South America.

The obvious political labels are not enough. In Iran, in Bolivia wherever the great tide of change has set in, we must look behind the labels at what is actually happening.

The State Police Say:
The need for extra skill in driving at night and in the early evening is sharply and tragically emphasized by accident records. It has been shown that although traffic is only one-fifth as heavy during the hours of darkness as during daylight, more than half of those killed in traffic accidents meet death after sundown. Mishaps reach a peak between 5 and 9 o'clock in the evening.

UN Security Council (winter quarters) we are now at Lake Success. If things don't turn out right we can change the name of the lake.

This is a better planned layout than we had before. One exit for delegates leads directly to the lake.

Any member who walks out in a huff had better be wearing his bathing trunks under his tuxedo.

I don't wish to point but if Gromyko can't swim he had better start taking lessons.

It took 75 vans to move the furniture but the old arguments came out by themselves.

New chairs were ordered but a strike at the factory held them up. Nothing could better illustrate for the delegates how American democracy works.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

During these vacation months every New Yorker has his quota of out-of-town visitors. Relatives from California, friends from Nebraska, acquaintances from Georgia, sooner or later they come to New York, and sooner or later they look you up.

When they come to see us in Brookfield they admire the scenery, of course, and tell us what a lovely place we have, but after a couple of days they want us to show them New York.

We live 75 miles from New York, but they know that we used to live in New York and that I still work in New York, so to them, we are "typical New Yorkers."

And, naturally, they want us to show them the "typical New York" life.

That, in their opinion, consists of a dinner at the Waldorf, a Broadway show, a couple of hours at the Stock Club after the show, and a wind-up at Reuben's or Lindy's with scrambled eggs or hamburger sandwiches at four in the morning.

"I don't see how you New Yorkers can stand it night after night," they say, and "New York is a lovely place to visit but I wouldn't live here for a million dollars" is the standard remark.

Strange to say, the "typical New York" is no different from the typical Lancaster or Springfield or Omaha or Harrisburg.

You must always remember that newspapers don't print the usual but the unusual. Winchell or Dorothy Kilgallen tell you all about the glamorous people and the gorgeous places and the exciting doings of New York, please bear in mind that those are the unusual things. That's why they write about them.

Republicans May
Return To Power

Washington, Aug. 29. AFTER fourteen years of being in the minority, in both the executive and the legislative branches of the national government, it is now conceded that the Republicans have an excellent chance of returning to power in both. They easily may secure control of the House—and possibly of the Senate—as a result of the elections in November. And, for 1948, their presidential prospects are better than they have been since 1928.

THIS being the case, one naturally might expect the Republicans to nominate the best available men they have this fall for the House and Senate. That would not only seem good for the country but good for the party as well. The better the men they put forward this year and the more of them they elect, the better their chances of gaining full control of the government in 1948. In particular, this would happen there in an off-year election is always nationally important, significant of the trend of the voters in the presidential election to follow.

FEW persons interested in politics need to be told these axiomatic political facts, which is why there is so much general concern as to the nominees of the Republican party in New York this fall. Among a group of outstanding independent Republicans has urged upon the party managers—and with considerable effect—the importance of improving the quality of the party candidates for the House in the various New York districts. But, even more important, it would seem, is the caliber and quality of the man the Republicans nominate for the United States Senate against Governor Herbert Lehman, scheduled as the Democratic candidate. It is pretty widely recognized that by the ordinary Republican candidate with nothing beyond a party appeal.

THAT is why there has been such keen interest in the prospect that Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan may be the Republican nominee. General Donovan is easily the strongest, and best available Republican in the state for this job. He would be the surest winner. He would make the best senator. It is not only his brilliant record in the first World War, in which he was the only soldier in the American Army to win the three top medals, that commends him for this place. Nor is it his remarkable achievement in World War II, when as head of the office of strategic services he, for the first time, organized and operated for the United States a really effective military intelligence and spy service.

THERE is, of course, a great deal more to General Donovan than the glamour of a superbly brave soldier in the first war and the able and effective director of an indispensable branch of our armed forces in the second. In addition, he is an able lawyer with a distinguished record as assistant attorney general; a man equipped with first-hand knowledge of the world, to leadership in which we now aspire; a high minded, enlightened citizen, sound and experienced in the fields of politics and public affairs.

IN fact, it is difficult to think of a better qualified man for the Senate than he—certainly, none has been mentioned so far. And it is difficult to believe members of the Republican organization in New York could be so benighted as to ignore the opportunity of commending their party to the country and enhancing their chances of success as to pass by the opportunity of nominating such a candidate.

THE other day in New York American Federation of Labor came out in a blast against General Donovan as an "enemy of labor." The charge is absurd. A demand on Governor Dewey and the Republican party to abandon the idea of naming him. This does not represent the rank and file of the AFL in New York, many of whom are personal friends of General Donovan. It represents a few leaders who seem bent upon making fools of themselves.

General Donovan is now said to be the last and he went out of the Senate in 1922. The prospects for the election of another Republican senator are better this year than they have been since 1916—and they are increased by the certainty that Governor Dewey this year will again head the state ticket. A ticket of Dewey and Donovan ought to have very great appeal in New York this fall. It would have youth and experience, character and competence, boldness and color.

From Me To You

By MESEBALL

Yesterday was the day . . . and today we are a wee bit tired. Our employees here in the newspaper had an old-fashioned picnic at Cascade Park. Pictures, games, sandwiches, pickles, olives, baked beans, ice cream and singing made up the program in the grove. Things went along fine and then all decided to take over the midway. There is where this little guy made a mistake. . . swings, dodgeball, merry-go-round, archery and the like takes stamina. . . and there are times when age begins to show up. . . You are just as old as you feel. . . and the six year olds and the ages near six can soon make a fellow think about his age. . . But what's the difference. . . rest you can get any day in winter so when summer is here let's have fun.

While we are talking about picnics and the like. . . Cascade Park has been very popular this past summer. . . many of our local industries have used the facilities at the Park to entertain their employees. . . In addition to these large groups hundreds of smaller groups have made their way out East Washington Street to the beauty spot of Western Pennsylvania. . . and between now and the official closing of the Park, Labor Day, there will be many more having fun.

Since so many people have visited the Park this year. . . what are some suggestions that you would like to make whereby the Park can be improved. Do you think mechanical entertainment is necessary. . . or are you of the school that would like to see nothing but a natural recreational spot. Cascade Park is your Park, citizens of New Castle. . . and the Park Commission would like to know exactly what you have in mind. Why not take time to put on paper your thoughts and send 'em in.

Smoke gets in our eyes. . . not a song title but a fact. Did you know that some buildings in town heat water for washing by means of coal fire 365 days a year. This means that smoke belches from chimneys all the year around. It seems that a automatic heating arrangement could be established whereby it would be a cleaner and less expensive operation.

Oop! Just heard a splash. . . The meeting must have adjourned.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

COUNTRY OF OLDER PEOPLE

We are rapidly becoming a nation of old people. Between 1930 and 1940 the number of people in our country 65 years of age or more increased five times as fast as the total population. In 1900, one person out of twenty-five was 65 or over. In 1940, the proportion was one out of fourteen. By 1980, it will be about one out of nine. What will this trend mean to children?

Only about a third of the aged persons of our nation are self-supporting. The remainder are either helped or supported by their relatives and friends or by public agencies or private philanthropy. Over the years, industry has not, except during the war, wanted men and women over 45 or 50 and this problem will increase as jobs grow scarcer.

Looking After Parents
Year by year children have grown less ready to look after their parents in old age. While social security has taken some of the slack, it does, like all humane governmental aids, reduce the urge of children to look after their aged parents and of the younger parents to exercise thrift in preparation for their older days. In some instances this proves a moral loss within the family, though apparently a moral gain socially.

Religious education of children won't be made easier, with the average age of the church congregation, already high, growing higher.

Nor does the picture for public education of children tomorrow look brighter, since increase in aged voters hardly will mean a more liberal assignment of public funds for educating children.

The growing proportion of older people increase the need that children shall be brought up with proper deference toward older persons, though the trend has been just the opposite. Also, it increases the need that all adults should understand children better than young parents should cultivate interest now so they will not in their older days seek satisfaction from hampering their grandchildren. Year by year more grandparents and other relatives are going to be sitting around where there are growing children and in homes with less and less space.

DREAMS

The night comes down with dreams and, Oh,
Sometimes they fearful seem.
But there are times when poor men know
Vast riches in a dream.

A little while they are allowed
All pleasures care denies—
May walk with pompous men and proud,
Though soon to work they rise.

In dreams, poor men may sail the seas
In yachts of gleaming white.
From all that frets them they are free,
That little while at night.

When day too filled with trouble seems,
And man's life harsh and grim,
How good it is that happy dreams
At night may come to him!

QUALITY AND EQUALITY

In these days when ambitious Russia is seeking to spread ideas of Communism all over the world, holding up as the right principle of government that the heritage of man is equality, it is well to realize fully the meaning of this word "equality" when applied to the citizens of the United States of America. This question was discussed very clearly by Owen Wister in "The Virginian". He writes:

"All America is divided into two classes—the quality and equality. The latter will always recognize the former when mistaken for it. Both will be with us until our women bear nothing but kings."

"It was through the Declaration of Independence that we Americans acknowledged the eternal equality of man. For by it we abolished a cut-and-dried aristocracy. We had seen little men held up in high places, and great men artificially held down in low places, and our own justice-loving hearts abhorred this violence to human nature. Therefore, we decreed that every man should therefore have equal liberty to find his own level. By this very decree we acknowledged and gave freedom to true aristocracy, saying, 'Let the best man win, whoever he is.' Let the best man win! That is America's word. That is true democracy. And true democracy and true aristocracy are one and the same thing. If anybody cannot see this, so much the worse for his eyesight."

And when the Declaration of Independence states:
"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Motor Clubs Urge 'Take It Easy' In Labor Day Traffic

Admonitions For Safety In Highway
Traffic Are Issued By State
Motor Federation

An appeal to motorists to "Take It Easy" over the Labor Day week-end was issued today by R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, which represents 61 affiliated AAA automobile clubs throughout the state.

"It is not pleasant to think that the holiday of any family will be marred by death or serious injury resulting from a motor vehicle accident," Mr. Maxwell said. "It is to be hoped that all will cooperate in making this coming holiday an accident-free week-end."

Pointing out that this is the second Labor Day since the Japanese surrender, the PMPF official said the possibility of accidents and deaths on the highways this year are greater than last because of the fact that there are more cars on the highways.

"This year we have considerably more cars on the streets and highways than we did at any time since 1941," he continued.

Mr. Maxwell offered the following suggestions to motorists in their Labor Day week-end driving:

"Don't weave in and out of traffic and maintain a steady driving pace; don't drive on the wrong side of the road; don't pass on curves, hills or at intersections, and pay strict attention to traffic regulations and safety rules."

"If all motorists will have consideration for the other fellow and 'Take It Easy' we can get through the Labor Day week-end without the accidents that result in death and injury on our highways," he concluded.

Deny Charges U. S. To Sell Military Items To China

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Two United States officials today denied Chinese Communist allegations charging that secret negotiations are being conducted with the Chinese government for the sale of American military items.

The statement issued by Assistant Secretary of War Howard C. Peterson and Foreign Liquidation Commissioner Thomas B. McCabe, former denied that the United States is using surplus goods as a lever to gain civilian air rights in China.

The statement said that no purely military items nor munitions are now being offered for sale to China. The officials freely admitted that conferences are being held to arrange the sale of half a billion dollars worth of civilian type surplus goods with the aim of benefiting China's economy.

The statement declared that any agreements for sale of surplus goods or for civil air rights will be publicized.

The officials said that Bolling R. Powell of the U. S. State Department, who has no connection with the disposition of surplus goods, is carrying on discussions with the Chinese government for a mutual civil air agreement similar to pacts negotiated by the United States and 18 other nations.

Pomona Grange
Hears Dr. DimitState Overseer Discusses Present Problems And Power Of The GrangeMEETING HELD AT EAST BROOK

East Brook grange was host to Lawrence County Pomona grange at its regular session with Worthy Master McCullough presiding.

In addition, comprehensive reports on lecturers conference at State College were given by lecturers and juvenile matrons. Cleanings from the conference follow: "Peoples of the world are looking to the American farmer for eventual peace in the world—not to the economists or politicians." We expect our government to represent us to foreign countries. It is our only agency to insure international peace. The primary duty of the government is to protect its citizens from aggression. "That government which does for a citizen what that citizen can do for himself does harm."

"Only thing to stop inflation is production." As to the former in relation to organized labor we see results of this in Bucks county where farm labor is organized, as a consequence many acres are not harvested. The troubles of the world today are based on self-interests and lack of appreciation. Man is trying every remedy but God, yet the fundamental basis for world peace is love.

Afternoon Session

The first part of the afternoon session was presented by Helen Workley, juvenile matron, who introduced the matrons of the various granges. The juveniles participating in readings, piano and vocal solos were: Thelma McCurley, Lorraine Forbes, Marilyn Forbes, Lilian Brown, Mary Alice Duncan, Lorraine Byers, Betty Maughan, Gail and Kay Brenneman, Jane Ann Wallace, Carolyn Cox, Eleanor Patterson and Elizabeth Temple.

Dr. Beatty H. Dimit, overseer of Pennsylvania State grange, spoke on "Potential Power of the Grange." In introduction to his topic he asked the question "What are we going to do with this atomic power? Can't be kept to ourselves, has been highly developed by other countries. We continue making bombs yet pretend to be working for peace; our statesmen say one thing while the army and navy are working in reverse. We must control it for right uses and demand our military leaders not to use it for destruction. Must not permit military leaders to have control but civilian leadership of its use, it is a great power if properly used."

"Back of all this is a higher power and that power is human personality."

Power Of Grange

Dr. Dimit spoke on the power of the grange toward corrective measures. Grange has never used its power for its own selfishness. The grange teaches principles of fair play.

Dr. Dimit summarized the guide posts of the grange:

1—All true prosperity rests on increased production—not accomplished through strikes.

2—Each one shall be rewarded according to his contribution to general welfare—not a profit for doing nothing or restriction basis. Farmer should have more equitable distribution of national income—but not subsidies which are only piling up a government debt.

Beware of national aid in education. Be self-reliant. The socializer is one who cannot make provisions for himself but expects some one else to do it. Grange must foster spirit of self-reliance.

You can create or destroy power. Power always goes from a higher source to a lower level. Energy must flow from a higher power—human personality. Organization must pull from a higher power—potential power from the Divine Being.

Evening Program

The first part of the evening session was the talent festival with Big Beaver, Liberty, Westfield, Wilmington and New Bedford participating.

Mrs. McCommon was in charge of the spelling contest with two contestants from each subordinate grange participating. Mrs. Alex Leslie of Big Beaver grange was winning contestant.

The highlight of the Pomona meeting was the conferring of the fifth degree on 108 candidates. Worthy Master W. H. McCullough was in charge of the Pomona degree team.

The next Pomona meeting will be Dec. 7, 1946, at Liberty grange.

ALLEGHENY COPS

MEANING BUSINESS

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Police benefit or no police benefit. Allegheny county police said their will be no gambling.

And to prove they meant business two detectives pulled a switch and blacked out the Homestead police department's benefit street fair, remarking that their brother officers will have to swell their pension fund by other means.

The two officers "raided" the fair after complaints had been received that several forms of gambling had been in progress.

Police of Buenos Aires, Argentina, arrested Carlos Verdeja, with several aliases said to have records as a confidence man in Buenos Aires, Chile, Paraguay, Brazil and Uruguay.

Iron Age Says Steel Controls Not Satisfactory

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Iron Age, national metalworking paper, declared today that price and production controls have failed to produce a normal and healthy peacetime distribution of steel.

The publication pointed out that these controls were successful during the war because "output was concentrated on specific products with not too many changes in sizes, shapes and quantities". Now, it said, there are required "all kinds of sizes, shapes, products and a tremendous increase in the number of orders and consumers".

Iron Age said that because of supply shortages, "many customers both large and small have been driven to black markets for some steel items and have been forced to engage in a system of bartering which has become almost fantastic during the past several months".

It cited cases where "even plumbing contractors have purchased unprepared scrap, passed it through the channels and have been assured such items as bath tubs and other material needed to complete projects."

Kiwanians See Romance Of Steel

Picture Showing Various Processes In Manufacture of Steel and Products Shown

New Castle Kiwanis club members saw an interesting color picture at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday entitled "Steel-Man's Servant."

The picture, furnished by the United States Steel corporation, showed the various manufacturing processes in the production of steel and its varied products.

Steel beams were shown, being pressed into shape; steel railway car wheels, formed under thousands of pounds of pressure; steel wire being drawn out as fine as watch springs; and steel tubes being pierced and drawn into various sizes were shown, the processes being intricate and ingenious.

The picture was shown by Clarence M. England, a member of the club.

from the consent of the governed remember at the time this Declaration was written, the government of France was shaken to its foundations by the Revolutionists. Thomas Jefferson, who is always spoken of as the writer of the Declaration of Independence, was thoroughly aroused, and believed if France could dispose of its King and all his works that the Colonists certainly could throw off the yoke of King George and all his government. And so, largely influenced by the leaders of the French Revolution, he made this Declaration that all men were created equal.

There was, however, no idea in the mind of Jefferson nor in the minds of the aristocratic Colonists who signed that Declaration on July 4th, 1776, that men were to remain equal—equally intelligent, equally strong-minded and equally successful. And so, while they believed there was equality of birth, they acknowledged the eternal inequality of Man—that every man from his birth to his death had an equal opportunity of distinguishing himself; instead of man being born of parents in high places and inheriting title, rank, and wealth, there was an equal chance of man born of low estate acquiring all the wonderful things of life.

Communism deprives men of acquiring wealth and position. It decrees that all men shall remain equal during their lifetime. It is an idea entirely opposed to all right-thinking Americans. Nevertheless, the Russian idea is found in many places in our Government—among the Bureaucrats in Washington and among the Labor leaders all over the nation. But the idea of Communism thoroughly digested is only another phase of the human ambition to rule. The Bureaucrats want to rule the lives of the citizens of the nation; the Labor leaders want to rule all Labor and so rule the Bureaucrats. And the Lord knows the Bureaucrats' and the Labor leaders' ambition is to rule Congress, the President, the Supreme Court and all officers of the government of the United States.

Demands Killers Of U. S. Airmen Be Brought To Trial

MONESSEN, Pa., Aug. 29.—(INS)—A brother of one of the five American fliers shot down over Yugoslavia demanded that "the killers be brought to trial."

Charles Comko, an ex-naval gunner whose young brother, Matthew, 19, was crew chief of the fatal plane, declared that shooting down an unarmed transport plane "was like taking candy from a baby." He added: "They use to tell us in the navy that Uncle Sam was the toughest guy in the world and we believed it. Well, now's the time for him to get tough. I know my brother was murdered."

At the same time, it was learned that the slain flier's mother, Mrs. Michael Comko, underwent a major operation last Saturday and has not been told the tragic news.

There are two basic types of snake poison, one of which attacks the victim's system, the other the blood cells.

POISON DRAUGHT FATAL TO CHILD

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Three-year-old Harold Wheeler of Pittsburgh died in Suburban General hospital Wednesday from the effects of drinking poison by mistake. Police said the youth obtained a bottle of liquid and drank some of it before his parents could reach him.

Epidemic Of Polio Seems On Decline

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The public health department reported that the infantile paralysis epidemic seems to have reached its peak and "has started on a slight downward trend."

A health official predicted that this week will show a still greater decline than the drop of 12 cases during the week ending Aug. 24. The official said that 1,786 new cases of infantile paralysis have been reported for the week ending Aug. 24 for all states except Indiana which is unreported.

In the previous week ending Aug. 17, the number of new cases, with the exception of Indiana, was 1,736—and including Indiana, 1,816. A sharp decline of 100 cases was reported by Minnesota which, however, still retained its lead for the greatest incidence of the crippling disease.

Minnesota had 263 new cases during the week ending Aug. 24 as compared with 366 new cases in the previous week and 360 for the week ending Aug. 10.

California jumped from third place to second with 195 new cases compared with 152 the week ending Aug. 17, and 115 the week ending Aug. 10.

Illinois Third
Illinois dropped from second place to third with a decline from 204 new cases in the week ending Aug. 17 to 183 new cases in the week ending Aug. 24.

New York, which the official called a "new worrisome spot" doubled its number of new cases from 27 to 104 in the week ending Aug. 24 to stand in fourth place. Fifty cases occurred in New York City.

Two states tied in fifth place with 95 cases each—Missouri with a decrease from 105 cases and Wisconsin which showed an increase from 48 cases.

The public health officials declared that only the New England states still remained comparatively free of the disease this year with 17 cases reported in Massachusetts during the week ending Aug. 24 and 13 cases reported for New Hampshire.

HAD NO ALIBI; LANDS IN JAIL
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Edward Livingston, 41, of Akron, was in the city jail Wednesday because he couldn't explain the presence of a side of beef, four hams and 12 pounds of butter in his parked automobile.

Earlier police said they had received a telephone call that a store was being robbed. Livingston's car was nearby, the officers added.

PLow STUBBLE EARLY FOR WHEAT SEEDING

One of the best ways to increase the wheat crop is to plow the stubble field just as soon as time and favorable moisture conditions permit.

A heavy crop of combined straw left on the field and plowed late may dry out the ground and tie up soil nitrogen to the detriment of fall growth of wheat or winter barley. Early plowing gives more time for straw, stubble and weeds to rot and become incorporated with the soil.

Early plowing and frequent harrowing sprouts and then destroys weed seeds and shattered grain. It gives the soil more chance to settle and become well stored with moisture. Winter grain needs a well settled seed bed.

Dry weather later may make plowing harder to do and increase the difficulty of working the soil down to a desirable condition early enough for a timely seeding. It is to be plowed for wheat getting it turned early and well worked down is especially important.

Many experiments have proved that early preparation of the seedbed for winter grain reduces winter injury and increases yields.

Young Girl Wins Prizes With Pigs

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Anna Mae Mull may be only 10 years old but already she knows a thing or two about the farm and pigs.

In her first year in 4-H work, the little New Alexandria, Pa., farm girl entered two porkers in the seventh annual western Pennsylvania pig roundup.

Her 315-pound Duroc-Jersey-Poland-China cross-bred porker topped first honors in the roundup and her other entry won third prize.

Anna Mae's neighbor, William Meyer, 16, entered 12 animals in the contest and was awarded the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce prize for the highest individual score. Dean Newell, 15, of Bolivar, Pa., won the reserve championship. Roundup officials said 54 4-H members entered 90 hogs in the contest.

Pfc. M. N. Ferrare Receives Discharge

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Ferrare, of 303 Friendship street.

Pharmacists Want Strict Enforcement Of Narcotics Law

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Delegates at the 92nd annual convention of the American Pharmaceutical association in Pittsburgh, today fell in line with a court decision to bring stricter enforcement of narcotic laws.

Dr. Paul B. Dunbar, United States commissioner of food and drugs, told the convention that a recent ruling clarifies "where federal jurisdiction ends and state jurisdiction begins."

Dunbar declared that the Food and Drug administration can control improper distribution of drugs even at the community level, if the drugs moved across a state line.

The commissioner said that some drugs, especially the sleep-producing and narcotics, must be strictly controlled because of their habit-forming properties.

The pharmacists were expected to take action later in the day toward further curbs on the improper use of sleep-producing drugs.

Cats were believed sacred by the Egyptians, and were embalmed and entombed after death.

Few Vacancies In Schools Of Mercer County

MERCER, Aug. 29.—The annual gathering of rural teachers in the county, besides the consolidated buildings and at least three dozen instructors and continuing their wartime teaching under emergency certification.

The picture for high schools under the county jurisdiction is equally bright, with only three vacancies reported.

Prize Winners At Picnic Announced

Third Annual Basket Picnic Of Moulders Union Much Enjoyed

International Molders & Foundry Workers Union, Local 398, of United Engineering & Foundry Company terminated the summer season at El Rio Beach, by crowning their third annual basket picnic with frivolity and fun making. A large crowd was present making the outing one of the most successful of the local union.

The foundry workers and their families spent the day in a varied diversion of games and contests. Bud Imhoff walked off with honors on the horseshoe courts. Sam Grigo outwitted his fellow employees and cornered the greatest pig race was run off by Tip Richards, ably assisted by Ed. Betts, Ed. Prager, Billy Bynny, Dan Carbone, the results of which are as follows:

Girls 15-yard dash, Carroll Richards; boys 15-yard dash, Kenny Seasmans; girls 20-yard dash, Betty Ann Sileski; boys 20-yard dash, Arthur Nagy; girls 25-yard dash, Alice Nagy; boys 25-yard dash, Eddie Ratter; girls 30-yard dash, Dolores Hruska; boys 30-yard dash, John Germain; balloon blowing, Peggy Ann Reller; Patricia Santangelo, Jimmie Ferris; Arthur Nagy, James Popovich, Evelyn Joseph; Pat Colalucia, Dorothy Kramer; husband calling, Mrs. Stanley DeFioro; wife calling, Ed. Anthony; fat ladies' race, Lena Rink; fat man's race, Al Rink; 100-yard dash, Nino Russo.

Prizes were awarded the winners for their efforts. Tille Sileski led his tug-of-war team to victory over their opponents led by Al Gercone. Mike Vigan's softball team defeated a team led by Dominick Aven in a free hitting game 9 to 8. The kiddies closed the afternoon by participating in a nickel grab that proved to be the thrill of the day.

In the evening the foundry workers were entertained in grand fashion by Billy "Sapho" Jones and his local troupe. To start off the program several selections were sung by Chester Biddle, a very good baritone, who received the paudits of all who attended. An unusual act was presented in little nine year old Danny Anthony who sang accompanied by his father, Ed. Anthony, on guitar. Dad and Dan, as they are known in the entertainment world, literally "stole the show" as the expression goes. Jimmie White on banjo teamed up with Charley Sand on accordion and thrilled the audience with several fine selections. Billy "Sapho" Jones proved his versatility by singing popular tunes. Russ Hall and his Red River Boys, William Church and Pete Riggins, then took over the spotlight and presented a fine program of hill billy music.

The foundry workers made it a full day by dancing the remainder of the evening to the music of a local orchestra. The fox trot contest was won by Tip Richards and Josephine Lambrose, while Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ickes won the waltz honors. Miss Soyjak and "Scrub" Joseph took the jitterbugging laurels, judges for the contests were Lemons Gabriel, Pat McCart and Billy Jones.

Special guests of the foundry workers were Eleanor Fuller, Mary Louise Gibson, Lucille McGoun, Perry March, Allan Outright, Howard Klugh, Harry Ward, Carl Salberg and Arsen Armond.

General chairman, Joseph Medure, extends his many thanks to his committeemen for their fine cooperation in making the outing a success.

Portland Quads Receive $25,000 Advertising Sum

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—(INS)—There'll be no hard times for Portland's five-day-old quadruplets. Not for quite awhile, at least, because today they possess a $25,000 bank account.

The quads, who were born to fame, fell into fortune when Probate Judge Ashby C. Dickson approved a contract with the Carnation Milk company providing for payments of $25,000 in exchange for advertising rights.

The court approved the contract, along with a petition naming Alton J. Bassett, Portland attorney, as guardian of the four youngsters, when it was assured by L. D. Tigner, father of the quads, that both he and his wife understood provisions of both documents.

The word forecast actually is a contraction of the words forward and castle.

Yanks Are Aiding Orphanage In Japan

TOKYO, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The U. S. army newspaper Stars and Stripes said today that American occupation soldiers are giving financial aid to a Japanese orphanage on the outskirts of Tokyo.

The paper said that five children in the orphanage are "GI babies" which Japanese mothers abandoned. It was said that the orphanage is receiving 60 babies a month. The place was called a "house of death" for starving Japanese children until American soldiers learned of conditions and began to contribute funds.

YOU won't have to wait much longer, either!

Who'd ever think that Climalene would play "hard to get" just when you need it most?

When this year started, we had big plans to give you all the Climalene you needed to make soap go farther, to give whiter washes, and to help with your housecleaning.

Then came raw material shortages. Our factories didn't have an ounce of Climalene to ship for months. Grocers sold out, and started shouting for more. "Our customers insist on Climalene," they kept telling us—

MORE CLIMALENE COMING SOON

At last we have good news for you. Climalene is in production again. It's being rushed to the grocers as fast as we can ship it. The demand is tremendous.

You may not be able to get a package of Climalene every time you ask for it. So, be sure to keep asking.

The new marking consists of a double line at horizontal and vertical curves. In most instances one line is solid, while the other is broken.

Under the old standard used in Pennsylvania solid lines indicated that it should not be crossed by vehicles, while a broken line was intended as a guide line and could be crossed safely when passing another vehicle.

The new type of traffic line now being applied on the highways of Pennsylvania preserves this same principle. When the broken line is on the right side in the direction of travel, the line may be crossed. When the solid line is on the right side in the direction of travel it may not be crossed.

Will Aid Traffic

A solid line is placed at each horizontal or vertical curve and the broken line is placed along side of it when the sight distance increases sufficiently to permit safe crossing. Department engineers feel that the new method of painting curves will expedite the flow of traffic by permitting vehicles to pass slower moving vehicles after the curve has been negotiated and there is sufficient sight distance to do so.

Proper observation of lines by motorists will enable Pennsylvania to fulfill its commitment to reduce highway accidents, Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways, says.

Contract Is Let For Big Turbines

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—(INS)—A $2,199,586 contract was awarded today to the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Eddystone, Pa., for construction of five 62,200 horsepower hydraulic turbines.

These huge motors are to be installed at the Davis Dam power plant now under construction by the bureau of reclamation on the Colorado River. The plant is a part of the Davis Dam, one of four structures for the regulation of the Colorado River, to be built near Kingman, Arizona.

The great dam will rise 136 feet above the river bed, be 1,600 feet long at the top, and traversed by a two-lane highway, 50 feet wide. It will produce over 800 million kilowatt-hours of energy a year, and will provide power for the reclamation of vast areas in the southwest area of the United States.

Miss Frances Davis, of 936 Adams street, who underwent an operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital Tuesday, is getting along as well as can be expected and had a good night last night, the hospital reports. She is a member of The News editorial staff.

July-December
Worst Months
For Accidents

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—June may be bustin' out all over, in the version of the song writers, but the safety experts would like to keep July and December from bustin' accident records.

Those two months are the year's deadliest, according to the 1946 edition of "Accident Facts", the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook.

Drownings and excessive heat fatalities, as well as vacation and holiday driving, boost the July total. Peak traffic deaths, however, come in December, and a jump in burns and asphyxiations swell the toll.

Falls, railroad accidents and explosions show virtually no seasonal variation, the yearbook states.

U. S. Carrier Will Make Malta Visit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The Navy department announced today that after the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt leaves Pireus, Greece, September 9, the warship will visit Malta and three north African ports.

Algiers, Tangier and Casablanca are on the carrier's itinerary, and the Roosevelt is due at the latter port September 24. She will be accompanied at all times by the destroyer Cone.

The light cruiser Little Rock will proceed September 9 from Pireus to Malta, thence to Bone, Algeria, the destroyer New will visit Bougie, Algeria, and the destroyer Corry is to call at Philippeville, Algeria.

Additional vessels which will be in Greek waters from September 5 through September 9 are the destroyers Noa and Warrington.

The Navy department announced that the light cruiser Huntington and the destroyers Perry and Wilson will remain in Adriatic waters—adjacent to Yugoslavia—"for the time being".

SEVEN TO FOURTEEN YEARS

Walter Jenkins will be away from New Castle for a little while, following his sentence Wednesday morning at the hands of Judge W. Walter Braham. As one Walter to another, Judge Braham gave Jenkins seven to fourteen years in the western penitentiary for burglary, assault with intent to rob and larceny.

The story is this. On the evening of June 13, Herman Fell, an aged man who lives on County Line street, found the door of his home open. He thought perhaps his son had left it open and thought no more of it. Later he went to bed and as he lay there saw a man in the hallway.

He called to the man, whereupon the intruder ducked into a bathroom. Later he came out and with a huge stone began beating Mr. Fell about the head, wounding him seriously.

Later Walter Jenkins was picked up at his home, a bloody shirt found under the steps of his home and he was identified by Mr. Fell as his assailant. A neighbor woman also identified him as a man who had been prowling about the Fell home on the night of the assault. Jenkins is a veteran of World War Two, but three years of his service were spent in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth for assaulting an officer, according to District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson.

repairs to two automobiles which he is alleged to have hit while driving his own automobile under the influence of liquor. He will be released in three days if the terms of the sentence are met.

Drunk Flying
Charge Is Made

GARDENIA, Cal., Aug. 29.—(INS)—Eugene Toler, 29, holder of a commercial pilot's license, was under arrest today—charged with drunk flying.

Deputy sheriffs charged Toler, in pre-dawn hours, sneaked a Fairchild primary trainer from a hanger at Gardena Valley Airport and took off with a cold motor from the unlighted field.

After flying the plane a short time, Toler landed the craft without mishap.

Airport attendant James Henderson said:

"It was pretty scary, hearing him buzzing away up there in the dark and expecting him any minute to plunge into the hangers and parked planes."

Two additional charges were filed against Toler: being intoxicated on private property and operating a plane without the owner's consent.

Peace Conference Is More Liberal Than 1920 Parley

By GERARD De Housse
Belgian Delegate to the Paris Peace Conference

(Written Expressly for I. N. S.)
PARIS, Aug. 29.—The 1946 peace conference in Paris is far more liberal than the 1920 conference. The latter was conducted by the Allied nations without having heard the viewpoint of the defeated nations, and behind closed doors.

The present conference has just given a hearing to five former enemy nations. This is indispensable for justice. The voice of the vanquished thanks the press and radio for making it heard by the entire world. The only drawback to this action is that it slows down the pace of the conference and causes long debates.

But what causes still greater delay in this conference are the comments of certain nations on the declarations of our ex-enemies. Only the energy of U. S. Secretary of States Byrnes has prevented endless comment, although he is taking care that everyone's rights are respected.

Avoided Serious Consequences

Byrnes' efforts avoided serious consequences, for if everyone had stated his precise position he would have encountered difficulties later on in modifying his standpoint. The Belgian delegation is a member of the Italian political commission treating the frontiers between Italy and France, Italy and Yugoslavia, the Trieste question, the Italian colonies and South Tyrol.

I suppose Italy will not make an issue of rectification of her frontier with France, but I think she will insist on modification of the frontier draft with Yugoslavia. So far as Trieste is concerned, we have to fix limits to the Trieste territory and draft a statute of administration. I am partisan to the idea of a trusteeship for the Italian colonies. If we don't establish that now, in two years from now nobody will know exactly where we are.

No Oppressive Peace

We don't want to be too indulgent towards Italy, yet we certainly don't want an oppressive peace. We remember only too well the German Weimar republic. We want European states to become reconciled. In my opinion, if we have to make concessions to Italy we should make them right now to Degasperio who is at the head of the new Italian republic rather than in a few years to some unknown. Furthermore, I think we should help the young republic which, in order to live, must give the Italian people something to satisfy them. I repeat, we're very much afraid of a repetition of the Weimar republic.

We are not in favor of economic blocs. This does not agree with our idea of internationalization but, alas, if things continue developing as they are now it will end in economic blocs. So far as I can see, the creation of economic blocs will be a prelude to political blocs.

Every exclusion is disadvantageous. There should be no closed hunting grounds in the world. This should apply not only in the Balkans but in any country. I must add that we Belgians might get stuck between two blocs.

ELECTRICIANS' STRIKE MAY DELAY OPENING AT SCHOOL

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—A strike by nine electricians over a furlough plan today was holding up school building repairs and threatened to delay the opening of at least one school next Tuesday.

H. H. Rothrock, secretary and business manager of the school board, said the men walked off their construction jobs without notice and without any demands.

Officials of the AFL-electricians union reported that "nothing can be done in the matter" until Business Agent William G. Shord returns from a west coast vacation Sept. 13.

Rothrock declared that one school would be forced to open without lights if the strike was not settled before Tuesday.

Busy Beavers Club

Members of the Busy Beavers 4-H club of Big Beaver Township attended church in a group at a young people's meeting in the Pentecostal church of Wampum, Friday night, August 23.

The Four-H club had charge of the meeting, with Helen Gerlach presiding. Every member participated in the program, with the 4-H hymn being sung, and presenting other numbers, including poems, special music, a quartet, and duet, while added numbers were given by members of the church.

Only one member was absent, and the two club leaders, Miss Dorothy McAnlis and Mrs. Merle James, assisted, closing another successful year for the club.

Grace Sickafuse and Joyce Campbell rehearsed the play they will present at the round-up Friday morning, August 30, at 10:30 o'clock at the First U. P. church. Joyce Campbell, Betty Ann Alford, Goldie and Grace Sickafuse practiced a song for the round-up.

Joyce Campbell, Shirley and Betty Reno and Grace Sickafuse discussed the subject, "Show Others and Tell Others."

A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Washington Fire Damage $750,000

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(INS)—Half a city block in Wenatchee was aflame Wednesday as the worst fire in the city's history caused damage estimated at $750,000.

Firemen were directing all efforts to preventing the flames from spreading to other business structures. The fire threatened to engulf all buildings in the block bounded by Wenatchee avenue and Orondo, Yakima and Columbia streets. The fire started about midnight in the southeast corner of the J. D. Hamilton Co. warehouses.

Two spectators, Kenneth Addes and Ralph Meenach, said the fire raced the full length of the Hamilton plant and spread to the Arrow Transfer Co. "within a few minutes."

The Dallam and Arrow Transfer structures were wiped out completely and fire still raged in the Hamilton plant, which also is a complete loss.

EXPLAIN PLANT GROWTH
LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(INS)— Purdue University agronomists say that nitrogen deficiency can usually be recognized by pale yellowish green leaves and unthrifty growth. In corn, yellowing starts at the tip of the leaf and spreads down along the midrib. This condition, often referred to as "firing," indicates that the plant is unable to get an adequate supply of nitrogen. Small grain leaves show similar wilting at the tip when the plant is short of nitrogen.

Qualifying Trials Halted By Weather At Cleveland Races

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Low hanging clouds and rain today temporarily halted the qualifying trials for the national air races scheduled to get under way tomorrow at the Cleveland airport.

A break in the weather later in the day was hoped for so that the already delayed trials could be completed in time for the start of the event.

The qualifying flights started yesterday after a two-and-a-half-day delay caused by lack of marker balloons on the course.

STOMACHS & CLOCKS

In some ways stomachs and clocks are alike and in some ways they are different.

There are many different sizes of stomachs and clocks. A small clock keeps time just the same as a big clock. Sometimes the works of a clock are small and the case large.

Sometimes there may be a small stomach in a large body. Different sized stomachs need different care. Perhaps it is not a good plan to watch the clock too closely when feeding a baby or a boy. A small stomach will not hold as much as a large one so it must be filled often.

Some stomachs work faster than others and hunger comes on sooner. The stomach of an active boy does not pay much attention to the clock.

Good Taste

YEAR 'ROUND SLIPCOVERS

"The sofa and one of the upholstered chairs in my living room are somewhat shabby—both as to upholstery and wooden frames. At present, I cannot invest in new furniture and I wonder if substantially made slipcovers fitted by an upholsterer would be in good taste for winter wear as well as summer."

Answer: Many people whose furniture is showing wear and tear prefer to have it dressed all year round in slipcovers that can be easily removed and cleaned rather than go to the trouble and expense of having it reupholstered.

This should never be done to furniture having beautiful or interesting frames; nor should any kind of furniture in a formal drawing room be thus covered, except in summer.

If you can afford to do so, I should advise you to have the furniture reupholstered, as this will give your room a more "permanent" look.

Question: Please supply the following information: (1) When is the proper time to give the bride-maids their gifts? (2) Must I give a gift or fee to the organist and soloist? (3) Is it customary to give the groom a gift? If so, suggest something. (4) When there are two envelopes to each wedding invitation, what should be written on each? What about invitations for small children, grown women in the family and grown men? (5) Should the attendants receive an engraved invitation, as do the other guests? Answer: (1) This is usually done at a luncheon or a dinner given in their honor. If you will give no such affair, you may present their gifts to them a day or so before the wedding when you see them. (2) If they have regular fees for their services, they will expect money. If they are friends doing this out of friendship for you, give them each a gift. In either case the presentation might be made after your rehearsal. (3) Yes. A travelling bag is an ideal gift from the bride to the groom. (4) On the inner envelope, "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe" without the address. On the outer envelope, both the name and the address should be written. To small children, combine their names on a separate envelope and inclose it with that of their parents. Each grown member of a family should receive a separate invitation. Two sisters (single) might be addressed as "the Misses." (5) Yes.

Plans Made For Extra Patrols On State Highways Over Holiday Period

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—In an effort to protect motorists and pedestrians on the highways over the Labor Day week-end, all available members of the Pennsylvania state police will be assigned to pay particular attention to the careless and heedless group which is less than 10 per cent of the registered drivers, who consistently disregard the rights of others.

This action is made necessary by the constantly increasing number of fatalities on the highways, according to Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of the state police.

"It is not the desire of the state police to unduly inconvenience the motorists, but the traveling public must be protected against the few who insist on violating our safety laws and thereby endanger all other highway travelers by their neglect and indifference," he said.

"During the Labor Day week-end of 1941, which was the last normal traffic year before the war, there were 29 persons killed on Pennsylvania highways, six in urban areas and 22 in rural districts.

"Last Labor Day week-end when traffic was but little heavier than before V-J Day, seven persons were killed on Pennsylvania highways, three losing their lives in urban areas, while four were killed on a rural road.

"We request the cooperation of all motorists and pedestrians in making the Labor Day week-end a safe and pleasant one for all who use the highways."

Manufacturers of Fuses For Shells Will Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The Senate Mead committee was expected to concentrate on fuse manufacturers in its investigation of the premature explosions of mortar shells which killed 32 American soldiers during the war.

Francis D. Flannagan, committee counsel, said the hearings probably would be held during the second week of September and last a day or two.

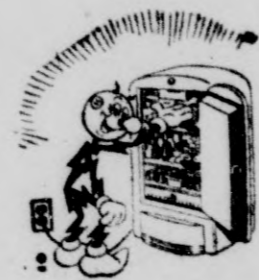

The committee has not yet decided what witnesses to call, he added, but indications pointed to defective manufacturing of fuses rather than shells as the cause of the premature explosions, which also injured 127 soldiers.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may starve, nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, sitting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning, sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PLAN TO EXPAND HEALTH PROGRAM IN STATE INDUSTRY

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The State Health Department Wednesday planned for expanding its industrial health program in Pennsylvania.

Secretary Harry W. Weest reported that a nurse, doctor and engineering expert, all specialists in the industrial health field, will be added to the state's laboratory staff. They will do field work in seven areas of offices, he added.

New equipment, including a portable X-ray machine for diagnosing respiratory diseases, and a dental X-ray unit have been ordered "to advance health conditions among industrial employees," Weest said.

Jesus and Right Use of Property

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 1 is Exodus 20:15; Deut. 25:13, 27:17; Proverbs 30:7-9; Micah 2:2-3; Matthew 5:40-42; 6:19-34; Luke 6:27-36; 19:1-8, 45-46; II Cor. 13:7, the Memory Verse being Exodus 20:15, "Thou shalt not steal.")

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"THOU SHALT not steal," said the Lord, and Moses recited the commandment to his people. There are many ways of stealing besides that of deliberately picking another's pocket, stealing his automobile, dog, chickens or his wife's jewels. There is the boy or girl who cheats by copying a classmate's answers to an examination, the person who slips by the fare box on bus or street car without paying the fare, or the parent who lies about a child's age so the company is cheated out of the railroad fare.

These latter may seem like small thefts, but they are stealing, nevertheless, and set a pattern of lies and cheating for the youngsters involved. The person who loafs on the job he is paid to do, also is dishonest. Grafting politicians are glaring examples of theft.

In Deuteronomy 25:13, we read, "Thou shalt not have in thy bag diverse weights, a great and a small." Most ancient weights discovered in Palestine are of stone, we are told, and the verse condemns the practice of having a large weight for selling and a small one for buying, thus cheating.

Neither Poverty Nor Riches

In Proverbs, Solomon prays earnestly: "Two things have I required of Thee: deny them not before I die. Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me: Lest I be full, and deny Thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain."

Most people desire riches, some few so much that nothing is too dishonest for them to do to achieve them. Jesus shows time and again how little He thought of wealth and possessions. Solomon, one of the wisest and also one of the richest of ancient eastern potentates, realized also that the most contented and envious state is to be neither too rich nor too poor. Jesus exhorted his followers not to concentrate on riches that might be taken from them by violence, or spoilage, but to "lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

His disregard for earthly possessions is further illustrated in His remarks about lending and borrowing. "Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away." Even the best of Christians should not take this too literally. One's first responsibility is to one's family, and it would be hardly ethical to take money with which to buy clothes and food from them to lend it to someone who is unthrifty. We should share what we have; help those that are needy, but not to the point of forgetting that those dependent upon us have the first call on our means.

Jesus also advocated taking no thought for food or raiment because the birds and beasts are fed and housed. "Are ye not much better than they?" "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, even Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these."

More Faith Needed

Man worries much too much. Lying awake at night fretting about what the next day will bring forth does no good, and yet all do it—even little children have worries. More trust is the answer to that, and a determination to take action to end what causes the worry. We talk a good deal of having faith in God, but sometimes the very best Christians seem to have lost that faith. "O ye of little faith," Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

"Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

We will just mention briefly the words of Zacchaeus, the little man who climbed a tree to get a better view of the Master. When he welcomed Jesus to his home after Jesus had told him he would sup with him that night, Zacchaeus said, "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation I restore him fourfold." Zacchaeus was accounted a sinner in that day because he was a publican and rich, but he did not take the honor of Jesus' visit as a matter of course; he determined to be a better man because of this contact with the Master.

Recounts Efforts

To Secure Hotel Rooms Across U. S.

CHICAGO.—(INS)—When they start selling tickets to see you snooze, it's time to say something about the hotel situation.

It's not that the Missus and I are sensitive, understand. As a matter of fact, we've had this show on the road six months now, and after that length of time on the lam in this year of our Lord 1945 you learn to take your sleep how and where you find it.

But this is positively the first time we ever had to take the boat to Milwaukee, or wherever it was, in order to spend the night in Chicago.

Confusing! Hah! Chum, you don't know the half of it.

Things Are Tough

To begin with, things are tough all over, as the boys say. Nobody seems to know where they came from or who they are, but all of a sudden this year people began to pop out of the woodwork in hotel lobbies all across the country.

Not only that, it's the same with auto courts, hotel tourist camps and rooming houses. Even the bums are wiring ahead for flophouse reservations this summer, and when the swallows came back to Capistrano they had to get on the waiting list for nesting privileges.

You think that's an exaggeration? Listen, chum:

In Georgia, we hit every hotel in three towns and finally settled for a room that was being renovated and we had to get out at 8 a. m. to let the painters and the plumbers in.

Push Tenants Out

In Mississippi, we wired a week ahead for a room and then had to wait, heads averted in shame, while the previous tenants of same were pushed, protesting, out into the hall.

In Texas, we took one assistant manager out to dinner every evening for a week in order to keep our room. In New Mexico, we had to use the governor's influence to spend one night in Santa Fe. In California, a bit of overseas black-mail about a hotel employee saved us from sleeping in the streets.

In Oregon, we drove 200 miles one night searching before we found even a lowly auto court without that fiendish "no vacancy" sign.

And high in the hills of Idaho, five bucks a head finally bought two cots and a stall in an ex-cowman's barn.

But all that was a breeze compared to Chicago last weekend.

Bad In Chicago

They say things have been bad here for months, but with various conventions—including the Moose and the grocers—and the All-Star football game, things reached the point by Saturday night where reservations less than a week in advance wouldn't even get you inside a lobby, let alone to the desk clerk.

All our friends went to bat for us, but it was just too late. One of them even called up a pal of his who was a house detective, but people were playing it so cagey he couldn't get enough evidence to kick anybody out of a room, which is a strange and embarrassing situation for a house detective in Chicago or any other town.

Which was how we came to catch the boat.

It seems that various large excursion craft which ply the waters of Lake Michigan during the daytime and early evenings do a quick-change routine about 10:30 p. m. and become floating hotels until dawn.

As a last resort, a friend who was chummy with the purser persuaded him to let us aboard.

It's quite a deal. You pay five bucks for the room, plus a dollar deposit on the key. (You don't check out; you just walk ashore.) The room is without bath, without a drinking glass, without ashtrays—you're not supposed to smoke, anyway—without closets, without hangars and, as we discovered later, without privacy.

There's two oinks and Bud, you've had it, and please don't park your car near the pier!

But after midnight, you cease being particular. We piled our clothes in the corner and settled down to grab three or four hours sleep—only to be awakened about dawn by somebody reminding us not to forget to get out by 8 o'clock.

Dawn again, we suddenly heard sounds of laughter, and looked up to see faces in the porthole!

The excursion crowd was coming aboard and a frowsy-headed blonde thought it was just too funny seeing people sleeping, so she was calling her friends one by one to come peep in.

If the Missus' aim hadn't been bad, I'd have walked ashore barefooted—but it would have been worth it!

Pittsburgh Mayor Pushes Efforts To Halt Power Strike

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Mayor David L. Lawrence today called in officials of the Duquesne Light company and its independent union for a report on the progress, if any, being made in their talks to avert a city-wide power strike.

It was the third such conference called by the mayor since negotiations began over a month ago.

Union President George L. Mueller told newsmen that the meeting probably will be a "disappointment," adding:

"We'll have to report that very little progress has been made since our last meeting with Mayor Lawrence. The situation is pretty much the same as it was then."

Meanwhile, E. C. Stone, vice president and head of the company's negotiating committee, announced last night that some "tentative agreements have been reached on some items."

Police Believe Boy Had Aid In Burying Body

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today said they were convinced that "someone else" helped 13-year-old Charles Hazlett, Jr., conceal the shooting and basement burial of his 12-year-old playmate. Homicide Detective Lieut. Peter A. Connors arrived back in Pittsburgh from Buffalo, where he said authorities refused to waive extradition to send the boy to Pittsburgh to face a murder charge in the death of his friend, Michael Garlich.

Skeleton Found
The skeleton of the Garlich boy—missing since last New Year's eve—was found Tuesday underneath a parking case in the basement of the home where the Hazlett family lived at the time of the shooting.

Connors, after questioning the boy in Buffalo where he was arrested while visiting his aunt, said he found several flaws in the youngster's alleged confession.

Sticks to Story
Connors said young Hazlett adhered to his original story that, after the shooting in his kitchen, he concealed the body in the cellar under a jacket and hunting cap.

Connors reported the jacket and cap have not been found. He said a brown coat was lying near the boy's skeleton. Hazlett also told police he placed the body behind the parking case but police found the crate on top of the body, according to Connors. Meanwhile, extradition proceedings were started after a Buffalo judge ruled that as a minor, Hazlett could not waive extradition.

This event, states Commander Fred Horchler, is to be conducted by a group of the younger members of the post, and a big turnout is looked for. There will be fun and eats, Commander Horchler states, and all the members have to do is "come and get it".

New candidates who have made application to join the post and those who have not yet been obligated are also eligible.

Seek To Prevent Double Taxation Of Stockholders

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce today presented a plan designed to relieve stockholders from "double taxation" by the federal government.

Secretary Leonard P. Fox, of Harrisburg, pointed out that shareholders were subject to both corporate and individual income taxes. A system permitting them to deduct 16 per cent of their taxable dividends in computing individual income taxes would remedy the situation, Fox claimed.

"Double taxation has had the effect of encouraging corporations large and small to finance through borrowing rather than through stock issues and of penalizing those assuming the greatest risks in business—the shareholders who furnish the equity capital," Fox declared.

The national chamber supported the recommendation, he said. If a person's hair is tinted, strong, alkaline soaps as well as chemically treated swimming pools may turn it a queer color.

Aluminum Wall Tile

For hundreds of years tile walls have been a symbol of quality and good taste in the home. No other wall covering could match the massive beauty and long life of individual tiles individually set. Only their great weight and prohibitive cost have, until now, prevented the widespread use of tile walls.

Today we can meet the challenges of weight and cost with beautiful, durable Aluminum Wall Tiles. Stocked in thirteen colors.

LIFE BEGINS AT 65

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — (INS) — Can life be wonderful after 65? The Philadelphia Recreation Association is going to attempt to prove that it is—and if the group is successful it will take "off the shelf" some 135,000 of the city's older residents. The association's plan calls for the creation of hundreds of clubs for men and women who at 65, 70 or 85 find they have slipped into an easy chair and more or less retired from active life.

Three Institutes Are Planned For Welfare Workers

One Is Scheduled In New Castle For October 14 By State Association

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29. — (INS) — The Pennsylvania Parole and Probation association planned today to conduct a series of three institutes for welfare workers on programs designed to curb youthful crimes and prevent spread of social diseases.

The one-day sessions were scheduled to be held at New Castle October 14, Wilkes-Barre October 28 and York November 18.

The conferences were planned at a three-day meeting of parole and probation officers in Harrisburg under the sponsorship of the association and the Public Service Institute.

During the second day's session yesterday, Dr. J. O. Reinemann, of the Philadelphia Municipal court, described probation services as a tool for crime prevention and called for greater public understanding of its purpose.

Paul W. Tibbets, of Reading, chief Berks county probation officer urged law enforcement officials show greater sympathy for law breakers.

'Back To Work' Campaign Begun By Allis Veteran

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29. — (INS) — A veteran today launched a one-man "back-to-work" campaign in the 160-day-old strike—the longest on record for a major concern—at the Pittsburgh plant of the Allis-Chalmers company.

Paul Zerbell said he had contacted a number of men and they are all anxious to return to the job. He added:

"There is no wage dispute. An increase had been agreed upon. There is absolutely no reason to stay out longer and we can't live on $20 a week."

Zerbell said if he could get enough men to agree to go back to work with him, he would ask the company to get an injunction against picketing at the plant.

Meanwhile, forty-two inspectors in the Pittsburgh plant of the Allis-Chalmers company had been ordered reinstated to their jobs with a year's back pay by the National Labor Relations board.

The NLRB, in its report, said the inspectors, after voting for the CIO-Electrical Workers as their bargaining agent, had been reclassified and given a demotion, with a subsequent loss of pay.

Management contended the men were part of management.

SAYS DISMISSAL OF 40 VETERANS 'PRIVATE AFFAIR'

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29. — (INS) — Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock said Wednesday the alleged dismissal of 40 non-union veterans from a western Pennsylvania road construction job was a "private matter between the contractor and the union."

He said the reported firing of the workers was "a regrettable incident" but explained the Highways department could do nothing.

The U. S. Employment Service at Pittsburgh said the men were reportedly discharged yesterday from a $2,000,000 road construction job near Charleroi because they refused to pay a $25 fee to a union business agent.

"The Department of Highways advertises for bids and awards contracts to the lowest bidder," Smock pointed out. "If they agree with the unions to hire union men, there is nothing the Highway department can do."

Gov. Edward Martin was unavailable for comment.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — (INS) — The University of Pennsylvania has been presented with a private collection of more than 100 rare bibles. The oldest volumes in the collection are three illuminated manuscript bibles of the 14th century, including Wycliffe's complete translation of the new testament.

Wampum Defeats Ellwood Elks To Win County League Pennant

Powell Hurls Four Hit Ball; Final Score 5-1

Huge Crowd At Ewing Park Field Watches Wardman Team Take Third Straight

RALPH FERRANTE LOSING PITCHER

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 29.—Before a record crowd here last night, "Bud" Wardman's sparkling Wampum baseball club tripped the Ellwood Elks, 5-1, taking their third straight in the play-off series and incidentally winning the Lawrence County league banner.

Frank Powell drew the starting assignment for the Legion, and just as he did in their first meeting, the Wampum ace set down the Elks without too much trouble. He allowed four hits over the nine innings, whiffed six and had fine control throughout. Not until the final frame did the Elks nip him for a run. The tally came about when Nick Palagallo muffed Cole's ball. Friedhoff walked and Joe Dougherty rapped out a single to drive in Cole.

Ferrante Loser
Ralph Ferrante did the firing from the hill for the Friedhoff-Volpe club, lasting until the seventh, when Ellsworth Bauer took over. The Elks' southpaw was nipped for eight hits and all the Wampum runs. Bauer pitched fine ball for the remainder of the game, holding the Legion hitless.

Wampum jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the third frame. Ippolito singled, Powell sacrificed and was safe on an error. Joe Mills then sacrificed, Brown walked, and when Smith juggled Fontana's hit ball, Ippolito scored.

In the sixth two more tallies crossed the plate for the invaders. Coy Craine got a one-base sock, took second on a wild throw and came home when Ippolito singled. The latter then scored when Miller overthrew first.

Palagallo Homers
The Legion did it the quick way in the seventh to end their scoring for the evening. Emil Fontana pumped a single into the outfield and Nick Palagallo got the bell-ringer of the night, a home run that brought rumping home ahead of him.

Wampum.....0 0 1 0 0 2 2 0 0-5
Elks.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-1
Two-base hits: Fontana, three-base hits: Joe Mills; home runs: Palagallo, bases on balls: Ferrante 2, Bauer 6, P. Powell 6; umpires: Irvin, Morgan, Keller.

'Jersey Joe' Breaks Hand; Drops Verdict

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 29.—(INS)—One of the year's major sports upsets went into the record books today when Jersey Joe Walcott dropped a surprise verdict to 180-pound Joe Maxim of Cleveland.

Referee Paul Cavalier awarded the nod to Maxim after a bruising 10-round battle at Camden ballpark witnessed by 6000 roaring fans.

Cavalier scored five rounds for Maxim, three for Walcott and called two even. Judges are not used in New Jersey.

Walcott, who liquidated Purple Heart winner Tommy Gomez in Madison Square Garden three weeks ago, broke his right hand in the battle.

The defeat dimmed Walcott's dreams of a forthcoming title bout with Joe Louis for the heavyweight crown. On the other hand, the triumph raised the stock of Maxim, a slick boxer and Jack Kearns' latest hopeful.

Ace Army Backs Offered Choice Financial Plums

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(INS)—The New York Journal American said Wednesday that authorities at West Point had learned of several approaches made to Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, crack Army football players.

This came to light following the statement made yesterday by Maj. General Maxwell Taylor, superintendent of the military academy, in which he accused many college coaches of trying to lure Army players with "lucrative financial offers."

Blanchard and Davis have been unanimous All-American candidates for the last two seasons and are counted on to keep the Army eleven unbeaten through a third straight season.

General Taylor had pointed out in his statement that both Blanchard and Davis had chosen the three year course and would not be eligible for play at West Point in 1948.

Dukes Wallop Spencers, 13-6

Duca D'Abuzzi club kept up their winning ways in the City Softball last night by easily downing the Spencers 13-6 at Marshall field.

Gentile and Giacomini took the batting laurels of the evening, both men hitting home runs and triples. Lively homered for the Painters.

Maggie relieved Latess and kept the Spencers in check for the remainder of the game. Headland and Lane pitched for the losers.

The game was an undisciplined affair on second place in the league.

In a recent game that was not submitted to The News, the Dukes edged the Sons of Italy, 11-10.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Cards Take Two From Giants As Cubs Best Bums

Redbirds Now Enjoy Game And Half Lead In Torrid National League Race

PHILS DEFEAT LOWLY BUCS, 4-1

By PAT ROBINSON (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(INS)—It appears likely that the National League race will go right down to the final day for decision. Neither Cardinals nor Dodgers show the slightest signs of cracking under the strain and it would not be surprising to see the lead switch often before they hit the wire.

The Cardinals hold a game and a half lead today by virtue of taking two games from the Giants while the Dodgers were blowing one in the ninth to the Cubs, who refuse to be counted out of the race despite a flock of injured players.

Slaughter Giants
The Cards slaughtered the Giants in the first game, played in sunlight, 13 to 8, and then made a garrison finish to win the night game 3 to 2. The Cards were one run to the bad and had two out and nobody on in the ninth when Marty Marion singled off Bill Voiselle. Then up stepped rookie Walter Sess, an outfielder from Pennsylvania, to pinch-hit for pitcher Al Brazle, and the young man came through with a game-winning homer.

The Dodgers, on the other hand, had their game, apparently sewed up going into the last half of the ninth against the injury-riddled Cubs. But Peanut Lowery singled, Arty Rickert and Lou Striner doubled and the game was over with the Cubs on the long end by a 4-3 count.

The Braves and Reds split a pair. Jimmy Sain won his 15th game for the Braves in the opener, 8-4, and Elwell Blackwell held the Braves to four hits to cap for the Reds, 2-0, in the nightcap.

Pirates Lose, 4-1
The Phils dug the basement a little deeper for the Pirates, 4 to 1. The Yankee stadium saw an amazing tribute to Bob Feller when 71,551—the largest night game crowd in baseball history—turned out to see the speed ball king do his stuff.

Bob was below par and Ernie Bonham and the Yanks beat him and his brother Indians, 4 to 0.

The Yanks picked up a game on the Red Sox, who finally dropped one to the Tigers in their own orchard. The Tigers had dropped nine straight in Boston before they turned on Mickey Harris yesterday and beat the Sox, 7 to 2. Roy Cullenbine's 11th homer and Hank Greenberg's three-run homer—his 28th—helped no little.

Dummy Galehouse of the Browns turned in the best pitching performance of the day in either league when he held the Athletics to two hits to score a 7 to 0 decision.

Chuck Evans, Browne first baseman, joined the rapidly growing casualty list in the majors, when he injured chest, arm and leg running into a wall chasing a foul fly.

The White Sox crawled up within half a game of Cleveland by trimming the Senators in 12 heats, 2 to 1.

Favorites Win In Pittsburgh Golf
Betty Abernathy Extended To Defeat Mrs. Ted Mong; Mrs. T. E. Nolan Defeated

PITTSBURGH, August 29.—Favorites came through but with difficulty in one case in the second round of the titular tourney of the western Pennsylvania women's golf meet at the Longue Vue club here Wednesday.

Mrs. Lee Mason, Edgewood, tourney medalist, beat Jane Martin Shamokin, 3-2, to qualify for the semi-final match today with Betty Abernathy current state champion.

Betty had her hands full eliminating Mrs. Ted Mong, Wanango, 1 up on the 21st hole.

Georgette Zinger, Alcona, defeated Mrs. J. R. Murphy, St. Clair, 4-3 and Mrs. B. R. Shriver Fox Chapel, won from Mrs. J. Stuart Brown, Allegheny, 2-1.

They were second round championship matches.

In the championship consolation, Mrs. J. B. Rose, Allegheny, vanquished Mrs. T. E. Nolan, New Castle, 6-4.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

JACK HERBERT, swimmer extraordinary and one of the most alert of life-guards, now watching over bathers at the New Wilmington pool, will end his summer protection there during the next few days. Within a month or two, he will be basking again in the sunshine of Florida, having been re-engaged as a life-saver at Indian Creek Country club, Miami. Here & There recalls when Jack, with both hands and feet tied, swam across and back again in Conneaut Lake, a feat, up to that time, considered high impossible. Not only does Jack possess exceptional ability in aquatic sport but also the faculty of winning and holding friends wherever he lingers.

Jack Hulme, formerly a Westminster College athlete, now affiliated with Penn State, will also visit Miami this fall. He is going there with the Nittany Lions who will play Miami on the latter's grid.

Polish Falcons Bowling League, of which Eddie Kendra is president, will hold a meeting at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the Miller street club-rooms. All members, and also anyone who desires to bowl with the league, are invited to attend the meeting. At 1 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, sportsmen who like to hunt ringnecks, will gather at the Delbert Porter home, 735 County Lane street, to meet with LCSA Secretary Porter and Game Protector William Overturf to stock 225 three-month-old pheasants in various districts in the county. The association procured 1,200 day old chicks and they are being reared. When they reach the age of 12 weeks they are liberated. There will be lots of action at the sportsman's farm, at the Harbor Labor Day and it is likely that Secretary Porter and New Castle Rifle and Pistol club officials will present in advance, their list of events for publication, Saturday.

Universals Nip Indies By 9 To 8 To Even Series

Game Called At End Of Sixth Because Of Darkness; Over 3,000 Fans At Tilt

Lawrence Indies couldn't beat Old Man Darkness or the Universal A. A. last night at George Washington field, losing 8-8, as the series in the City league became 1-1 in games and put even more interest on the play-offs when these two contenders clash again Sunday at the E. and A. field.

The contest was halted at the end of the sixth frame by umpires Bray-Kovich, Orlando and Rotunno when darkness shrouded the field and made further competition impossible. At that time the Universals were holding the long end of the score and so drew even with the first-half winners in this interesting battle for the flag.

Houston Winner
Houston was the winning hurler, relieving Stewart in the third when the Indies went off the rampage, scoring six runs. It was definitely not a pitchers' battle as neither side set down many batsmen via the strikeout route. Nickum was the choice of "Boss" Zidow for the starting assignment, and he was followed by Savage and Joe Magusak as the Indies plotted tried to still the murderous Universal bats. The Indies collected eight hits in the game, and the Universals came through with a total of 10 safeties.

Have Big Inning
Mickey Huff's nine lost no time getting into gear in the game, as they teed off on Nickum in the second frame, a total of seven tallies crossing the platter. Two more in the third proved to make the margin give the second-half champs the ball game.

Besides their big inning in the third, the Indies managed to score lone tallies in the second and fourth frames.

Many Feature Hits
Fans were treated to plenty of extra-base socking as both teams tore the hide off the pellet. Stewart of the Universals and Evenko of the Indies each had doubles. "Hank" Koszella of the Indies had the lone triple of the game, and Harventine and Smiley of the losers had circuit wallpops as did Cardella of the Universals.

The largest crowd to ever witness a game at Washington field, over 3,000, turned out last night as in-hot moments to fever pitch in this hot play-off for league honors.

Titan Gridders Delay Training

Blue And White To Begin First Sessions September 9, Washington Announces

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 29.—Grover Washbaugh, director of athletics at Westminster, announced today that the Titan squad will not begin their training until Tuesday, Sept. 9, due to the recent decision to delay the opening of the fall school semester.

Some 48 gridders are expected to turn out for the first call. The Titans will open their season September 28, meeting Slippery Rock at the "Rockets" field.

The Saints are fashioning one of the longest win streaks in the history of softball in this city and are out to keep their record intact in Church league play.

Youngstown Man Has Hole-In-One
That thrill that comes once in a lifetime and sometimes not even then, was experienced by C. W. Byers of 3072 Sunset boulevard, Youngstown, yesterday as he made a hole-in-one at the Castle Hills course. The feat was accomplished on hole seven with a five iron.

Other members of Byers' foursome were L. K. Lee, H. L. Cassel and Reed Booker.

Domestic Help Grows Scarcer

Woman's Bureau Of Department Of Labor Gives Results Of U. S. Survey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Attention ladies: Only one maid in 73 who has won freedom from household drudgery in World War II is willing to return to her old job.

The women's bureau of the department of labor declares that if the present trend continues, one generation hence there will be only one maid per 40 families. Back in leisurely 1900, one household in every 11 boasted a domestic helper. The bureau reports that with the freer flow of wealth and the boom in the ranks of "nouveau riches" some persons are even agitating for relaxation of immigration laws "on the theory that immigrant women would willingly accept domestic service in order to enjoy life in the United States."

Suggests Union

Everyone has a suggestion. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt expresses the belief that formation of unions for household workers will provide a panacea. Some organizations are all-out for extension of social and labor legislation.

"Titles of the many articles published on the subject of late attest to the fact the situation is grim—"Housework Isn't Too Bad", "Can't We Lure Martha Back to the Kitchen", "Housemaid Limited", "How To Get Your Household Help Back" and "Household Employment of High School Girls".

Even a church has taken a hand in trying to avert a crisis in the kitchen and nursery.

The solution set forth by the Presbyterian church is simply the "application of Christian principles". Enlarging upon this it has just put out a pamphlet entitled "Martha In the Modern Age".

Needs Rethinking

The pamphlet declares that employers are going to have to do a lot of rethinking about their own responsibility in establishing temptingly high standards. The church maintains that household employment is a last resort "not because they (the domestic workers) dislike the work, but because they dislike the wages, hours and living conditions."

Crux of the Presbyterian plan is a set of six cardinal rules:

1. "A Christian household will pay a living wage...experienced and skilled workers will receive higher wages than the untrained worker."
2. "Time and a half" for overtime with no work week running over 60 hours."
3. "Duties should be discussed periodically and alterations made."
4. Living conditions should be satisfactory and if the worker lives in "she should have her own room, access to a bath and opportunity to entertain her friends."
5. Employers should make provision for accident and health insurance."
6. "Employers should have respect for the employee as an individual."

Nobody's Business Where U. S. Fleet Goes, Says Halsey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(INS)—Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey said Tuesday that "it's nobody's damn business" where the United States government sends units of its powerful fleet.

The fighting commander of the famed wartime Third Fleet declared that the navy is free to send ships anywhere on the high seas, regardless of protests from other nations.

He maintained that the ships could go anywhere providing they did not sail into foreign territorial waters.

He said: "It's nobody's damn business where we go. We'll go any place we please."

The admiral has just returned from a good will tour of South America. He told a news conference that he was greatly in favor of navy courtesy calls, such as the Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and other fleet units are now making in the Mediterranean.

Crude pens of brass and silver have been found in the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum and in the ancient temples of Greece.
